

Ninth Lit/Comp
Drama Unit Test Review Sheet

Test Format: Multiple Choice, Quotation Identification, Critical Reading, Essay

You should be able to define the literary terms below and find examples in the play. Theme and characterization are especially important. Be prepared to read an excerpt from Shakespeare we have not studied together and analyze the language.

- themes
- important quotations
- internal and external conflicts
- characterization for all major characters
- foreshadowing (find examples)
- dramatic irony (find examples)
- plot elements in Shakespearean dramas
- foil (examples)
- imagery and figurative language – especially in the speeches of Romeo and Juliet
- language tricks— personification, alliteration, assonance, consonance
- the characteristics of a Shakespearean tragedy
- how Shakespeare treats themes like love and marriage in Romeo and Juliet

Ninth Lit/Comp
Romeo and Juliet Unit Test Review Sheet

Test Format: Multiple Choice, Quotation Identification, Critical Reading, Essay

You should be able to define the literary terms below and find examples in the play. Theme and characterization are especially important. Be prepared to read an excerpt from Shakespeare we have not studied together and analyze the language.

- themes
- important quotations
- internal and external conflicts
- characterization for all major characters
- foreshadowing (find examples)
- dramatic irony (find examples)
- plot elements in Shakespearean dramas
- foil (examples)
- imagery and figurative language – especially in the speeches of Romeo and Juliet
- language tricks— personification, alliteration, assonance, consonance
- the characteristics of a Shakespearean tragedy
- how Shakespeare treats themes like love and marriage in Romeo and Juliet